SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1918.

NO. 14

NO APPOINTMENT OF ARCHITECT FOR CITY HALL

ANY ATTEMPT ON HIS PART TO HASTEN SELECTION OF ONE DENIED BY JUDGE CUNNINGHAM.

Following the regular session of the Trustees on Monday evening last the members of the board adjourned from the City Hall to Metropolitan Hall, where Mayor Kelley called to order the mass meeting held for the purpose of further discussing the proposed bond issue for the construction of a city hall. The meeting was well attended.

Immediately following the opening of the meeting the report of the committee appointed to inspect civic buildings was read by its chairman, F. A. Cunningham, and upon the ruling of the chair the secretary was instructed to write the report into the minutes as part of the public records.

Plans submitted by various architects were opened by a committee of three, consisting of Judge E. E. Cunningham, A. P. Scott and W. J. Martin, but no definite action was taken on the appointment of an architect other than that the matter now rests between Architects Werner, Weeks and McCrea.

Raps Newspaper Man.

Considerable time of the meeting was consumed by Judge Cunningham in explaining what he averred to be an erroneous construction placed upon his actions at a preceding meeting, as reported in the columns of The Enterprise. Cunningham had carefully compiled notes to which he referred in his attack on the article, claiming that the plan to hasten the appointment of an architect "existed only in the mind of the writer." A caustic quip that his integrity was unquestioned and if it wasn't "he would not hire a newspaper man to defend him, he would engage a bright boy," brought a laugh from his listeners.

The concluding part of the Judge's remarks, that he was there to remove from the minds of his hearers any impression as to his casting reflections at the Trustees' meeting and a telling sentence endorsing the candidacy of F. A. Cunningham for Trustee at the coming election, brought a hearty response to that particular sentiment from the audience.

Based on interviews with a number of those who were present, it appears to be the consensus of opinion that the article to which Judge Cunningham referred stated correctly what transpired at the meeting in question.

MISS ANNE KAVANAUGH IS BRIDE OF DR. WINKLER

The marriage of Miss Anne Kavanaugh of this city to Dr. Henry Winkler of Redwood was solemnized at All Souls' Church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father Moran performed the ceremony.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink roses and was becomingly attired in white chiffon and wore a hat to match.

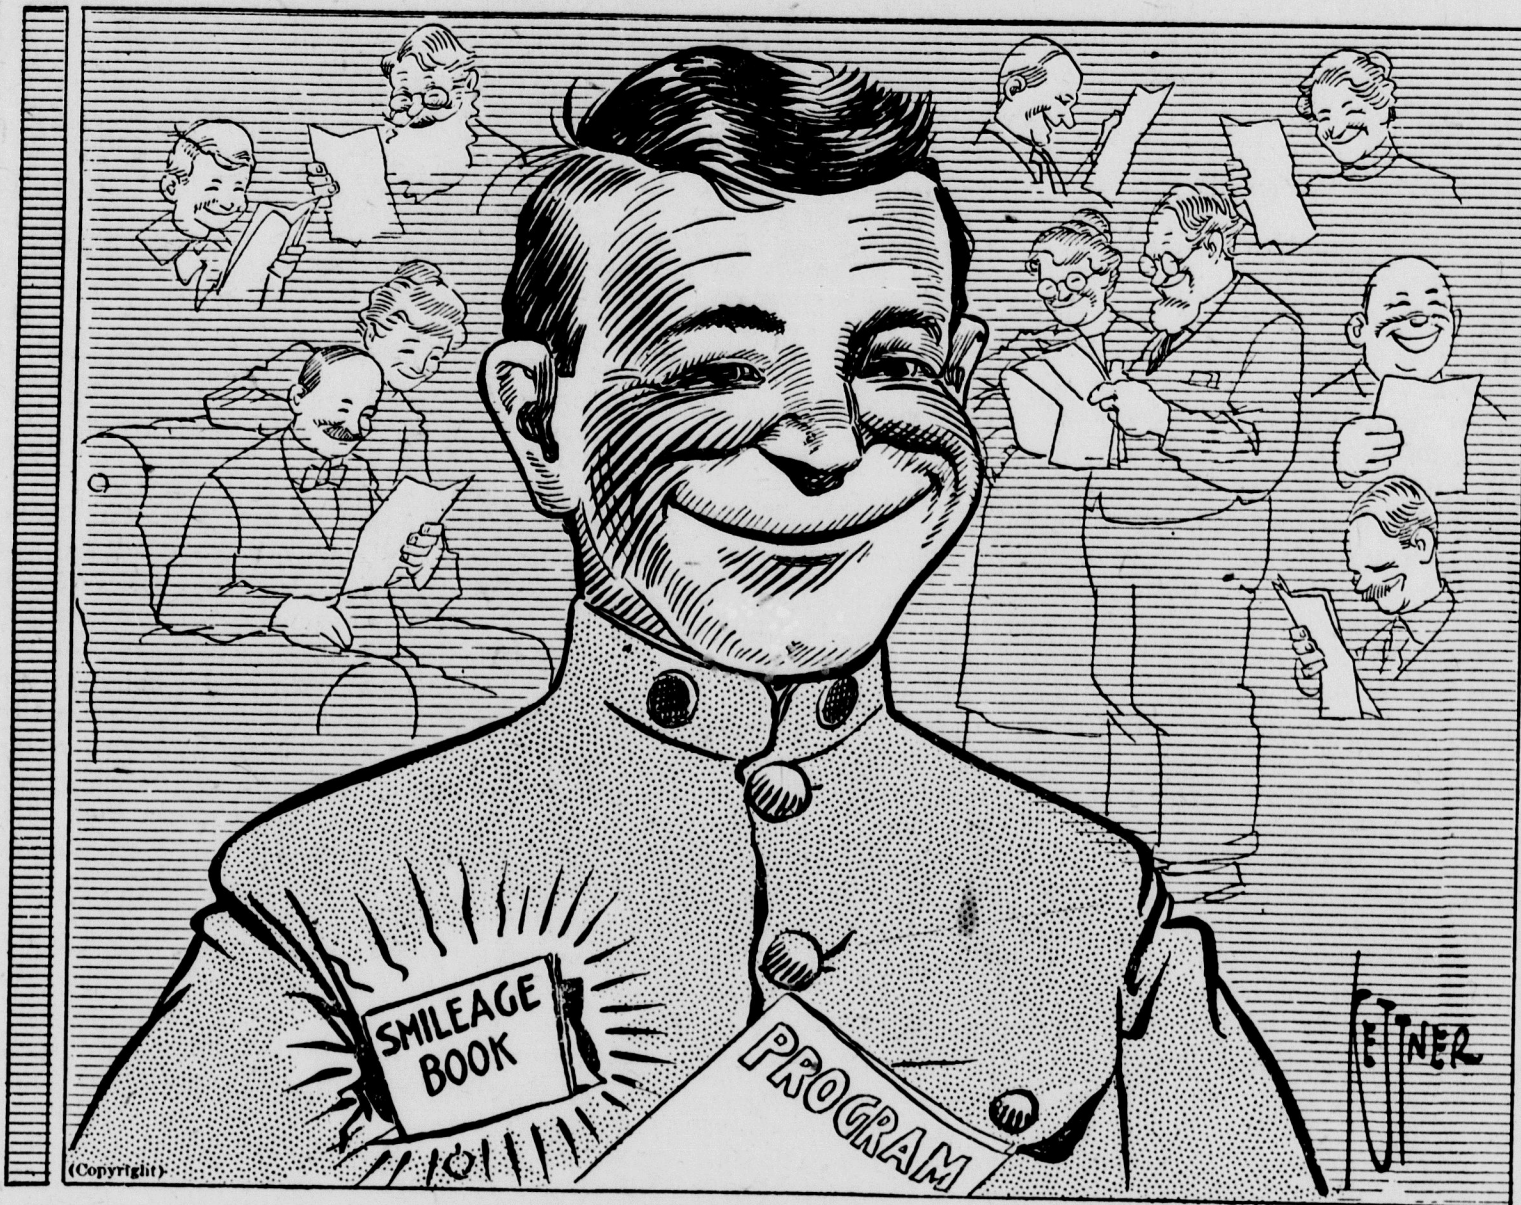

Miss Margaret Kavanaugh, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Alice Kavanaugh flower girl.

Louis Winkler, brother of the groom, was best man at the ceremony.

Following the nuptials the young couple left immediately for Camp Meeker, where they will spend a week on their honeymoon.

They will make their residence at 122 Arch street, Redwood City, where they will be at home to friends.

Lend Him a Hand!

Lend him a hand!

Your hand—my hand—

Every hand in the land stretched out to help to victory that khaki-clad American soldier of ours, facing the Germans across No Man's Land from the trenches of France.

Lend him a hand—

He is facing cold, hunger, storm, disease, death that America's homes may be safe from the thrust of German arrogance. He is enduring hardship and danger willingly, without a murmur, that American liberty and justice may endure. He is fighting for you!

Lend him a hand—

He is depending on you for food and clothing, for the shells, rifles and machine guns that will take him over the top to victory. You will not—can not fail him now. Stand by him. Back him up.

Lend him a hand—

The Third Liberty Loan is the measure of your support. Its success is vital to his comfort, to his safety, to his victory.

Invest in all the bonds you can.

GOVT. ORDERS 3 CONCRETE SHIPS

REDWOOD CITY SHIPYARD SECURES ADDITIONAL U. S. CONTRACTS.

Construction of three more concrete ships at Redwood City larger than any heretofore built was authorized Wednesday by the United States Shipping Board as a result of the successful launching of the concrete Faith by the San Francisco Shipbuilding Company on March 14.

Each of the three new concrete ships authorized by the Shipping Board will be 550 per cent larger than the Faith. The tonnage of concrete vessels to be built hereafter was fixed by the Shipping Board at 7500, while the Faith is a 5000-ton vessel.

The Faith was built and launched within six months from the time the project was conceived, and the San Francisco Shipbuilding Company, her builders, have guaranteed the government delivery of the three new vessels in four months, allowing sixty days for the preparation of plans.

GIRLS OF SOUTH S. F. VISIT MENLO CENTER

ATTRACTIVE SOCIAL CENTER IS FORMALLY OPENED TO BOYS OF CAMP FREMONT.

A representative gathering of the South San Francisco branch of the Girls' Patriotic League motored from South San Francisco to Menlo Park on Wednesday evening to attend the opening of the Menlo Community Center, which is under the able direction of Mrs. Henry Ward Brown.

An attractive home has been thrown open for the use of the soldiers stationed at Camp Fremont where they may meet, under chaperonage, with their wives and the young women who have interested themselves in the War Camp Community Service which is affiliated with the War Commission.

The formal opening of the Menlo Community Center took place on Tuesday evening, and the home was visited by General Morrison and members of his staff, who gave their unqualified approval to the plans for providing wholesome entertainment

CURUSIS ENLISTS

Sam Curusis has enlisted in the National Army and expects to be called to the colors any day.

Curusis is a well-known merchant here and a partner with his brother, Gus, in the wholesale and retail grocery and provision business which the brothers have built up to big proportions.

..... for the boys in the cantonment.

The popularity of the movement among the men in the service was exemplified on Wednesday evening. So many took advantage of the invitation extended that it was necessary to adjourn to the Episcopal Guild Hall to accommodate the dancers.

The South San Francisco people who attended the affair Wednesday night are Dr. and Mrs. Leo Flanagan, Mrs. N. A. Becker, Helen Carmody, Emily Fourcans, Florence Roberts, Minnie Foley, Mildred Foley, Alice McGrath, Lillian Mosser, Mary Agnes Carmody, Alice Stearns, Opal Davis, Maybelle Stillman, Viola Heins, Irene Doyle, Beatrice Eikrenkotter, Mrs. W. J. Martin and Grace Martin, Mrs. C. Coffinberry.

LOCAL SHIPYARD WILL HOLD PATRIOTIC SERVICES

FLAG-RAISING AND PATRIOTIC CEREMONIES TO BE OBSERVED ON LIBERTY DAY, APRIL 6.

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon a formal flag-raising and patriotic celebration will be given at the Schaw-Batcher shipyard in accordance with the plans of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which has ordered similar ceremonies in every shipyard of the United States.

The ceremonies will commemorate "Liberty Day," as the anniversary of the date on which the United States entered the world war. It is anticipated that this day will hereafter be a national holiday.

Cunningham to Speak.

Judge E. E. Cunningham will make the flag-raising address and the school children of the city have been invited to the ceremony through the courtesy of E. G. Ekstrom, general manager of the plant.

Passes will be issued to a limited number of invited guests, as the general public will not be indiscriminately admitted. It is anticipated that a number of the city's most prominent citizens will accept the invitation and be guests of the corporation on that day. Those invited will leave from the bank at 2:45 Saturday and drive direct to the shipyard.

SOUTH CITY BEARS GO IN TRAINING

(By Tom Becker.)

The South City Bears have been very fortunate this year in that they have not lost a single player in the draft. This is probably due to some of the players having glass arms or charleyhorses, or maybe they are too old to be drafted. Anyhow, we are going to have a good team this year, in not exactly reverse English.

The boys have been faithfully practicing for several days and are in good condition. Al Maderas is showing accurate ability in throwing the ball to the centerfielder and Joe Mahoney is able to get down to first without shifting gears. Art Steele says he is going to get a haircut, so he will be in good trim for Sunday's battle.

Anyhow, if you want to Hooverize on your spending money and at the same time see a pretty good imitation of our national pastime, just come down to the new (?) baseball field next Sunday at 2:30.

The team at present consists of infielders H. Hyland, A. Becker, J. Mahoney and T. Becker; Outfielders R. Blery, S. Fischer and J. Smith; Catchers A. Maderas and B. McSweeney; Pitchers, A. Steele, M. Dowd and H. Lauchere.

T. C. MCGOVERN IS APPOINTED DEPUTY

T. C. McGovern has succeeded Bob Congdon as deputy sheriff with Sheriff Michael Sheehan.

McGovern, better known to his friends as "Brick," is a brother of Dr. J. C. McGovern of this city and was formerly a deputy in the county recorder's office.

Congdon has not been in good health for some time and has decided to take a much-needed change.

Cigarette books, book covers and papers invoiced at the American consulate at Nantes, France, for the United States during 1917 were valued at nearly $1,000,000.

(By Claire E. Forster.)

NUPTIALS.

Thursday, Mrs. H. A. Eddy, with a number of Lomita Park people, attended the marriage of Mrs. Eddy's sister, Renee Wittman, to Emanuel Trinta. The wedding took place at St. Agnes' Church at 5 o'clock p. m., with Miss Helen Wittman, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Henry Bryant of the aviation school at Redwood as best man. An elaborate dinner was served at Wittman's Cafe. After a short honeymoon they will make their home in Redwood City.

Mr. Trinta holds a responsible position in a government aeroplane factory.

MRS. MACKEY SOLOIST.

The All Fools' party given by the Welfare League Monday night was a great success. San Bruno's most popular soprano, Mrs. S. Mackey, sang "Jessie's Dream," accompanied by Mrs. J. J. Ledwith. She responded to an encore with "So Long, Mother." Other music was furnished by a San Francisco orchestra.

M. E. CHURCH SUPPER.

The supper given by the men of the Methodist Church building committee proved to be all that was promised. A good dinner, which was cooked by the chef of Uncle Tom's Cabin, was served by the men of the church. After the dinner Mrs. S. Mackey repeated, by request, her song of Monday evening, "Jessie's Dream," and the Rev. E. E. Malone sang "Mother Machree."

Y. M. I. PLAY WHIST.

The Y. M. I. of San Bruno gave a whist party Wednesday night in the parish house. Twenty-seven tables were played and a very enjoyable time was had by every one.

At the school election last Friday P. Bolliger carried the election by an overwhelming majority.

The firemen will give a masquerade ball Saturday night, April 6, in Green's Hall.

Don Fraser of Lomita Park, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is much improved.

H. Spaulding's family are again under quarantine, owing to the illness from diphtheria of a niece, Miss Gladys Edwards of Oakland, who was spending her vacation here.

Mrs. E. C. Storer is going to enlarge and beautify her home in Third Addition.

Mrs. W. H. Doyle, formerly of South San Francisco, now of San Francisco, visited here Thursday.

J. E. Woods of San Bruno, who has been very ill in the hospital, is home again much improved.

Mrs. M. Carroll is home again from the hospital after two operations, and is very much better.

H. Heintz Sr. of Lomita Park, who has been suffering from pneumonia, is much improved.

H. F. Daneri of Rionido spent the past week with his brother, E. J. Daneri, of San Bruno. A niece, Miss Genevieve Daneri, is also spending her vacation here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Wiggan of Fourth Addition have gone away on a vacation. Mr. Wiggan is suffering from whooping cough.

The two little children of Mrs. A. F. Grundy are ill with the whooping cough and measles.

Mrs. Eric Erickson, a former resident of this city, now residing in Los Angeles, is intending to return to her home in San Bruno.

SAN BRUNO FORMS PROTECTIVE ASS'N

PUBLIC-SPIRITED CITIZENS COMBINE TO ADVANCE CITY'S WELFARE.

The San Bruno Protective Association was organized on the 21st day of March, 1918, with a membership of twenty-five.

The purpose of the organization is to protect the people in their rights of improvements and to care for all other matters appertaining to the welfare of San Bruno.

A set of by-laws have been drafted, officers elected and the association now has a membership of forty-seven. There is no initiation fee and any one may join.

Any one can come before this assembly with any matter appertaining to the welfare of San Bruno, and the matter will be thoroughly thrashed out and then turned over to the executive committee, who will place it before the City Trustees.

The executive committee will, as far as possible, consist of one member from each tract, so as to represent all of San Bruno.

Meetings at present are held in the Northbrae schoolhouse, on the first and third Tuesday evenings of each month, at 8 o'clock.

All are cordially invited.

Mrs. M. Sussman, who has been seriously ill, is gaining strength very slowly.

Miss Annie Burns of Woodside was a visitor at the home of Mrs. J. Cunningham Thursday.

Miss Lillian Riffe of Sacramento spent the past week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmer.

"Ethel Clayton in 'Souls Adrift'" Tuesday's Bill at Royal Theatre

"Hic—here's to my—hic—future wife! Hoo—hic—hooray fer her!"

Elma Raybourne turned sick as she heard Maberly Todd, jovially intoxicated, propose this toast to her.

Must she marry this man—this typical rich man's son, hard-drinking, fast-living and of slack morals? She became nauseated at the thought.

"Please excuse me, father," she said to her dad. "I am very tired, I think I shall go to my stateroom."

"Aw—aw right, ma dear," mumbled her father, as he gladly turned to the flushed faces and sparkling eyes of the girls who had just crowned him "King Alcohol."

It seemed inevitable that Elma would marry Maberly. She thought somberly of her future and then—then came a grinding explosion, a flare of volcanic light and the yacht split in two as its boilers burst.

Elma fell to the floor. Dimly she felt the smoke suffocating her and dimly she realized that some one had caught her up and was carrying her up to the deck. Then she lost consciousness. When she came to herself she found that she was in a little rowboat on a glassy sea. Two sailors, stripped to the waist, were rowing while sweat poured down their shiny backs, and gazing into her eyes was Micah Steele—Micah of all men in the world!

"You!" gasped Elma.

Micah grinned evilly.

DEFENDS ORDINANCE

FRANKLIN K. SWART MAKES FORMAL STATEMENT TO SUPERVISORS.

That the recently passed "jitney ordinance" is designed as a protection to public safety, insures collection of damages in the event of accident and is a benefit to the drivers themselves, are some of the claims made for it in a statement filed with the county Board of Supervisors by Franklin K. Swart, district attorney.

Swart avers that only those whose selfish interests are directly affected have opposed its passage, and denies that it has any tendency to tax the operators of jitneys out of business.

In support of his contention he submits a copy of a letter received from W. E. Hostetter of San Mateo, in which Hostetter says that "I feel your new ordinance is perfectly all right and much needed for the safety of the public."

After April 8 all persons operating motor vehicles for compensation who have not filed the proper bonds in accordance with the new ordinance will be subject to arrest. The new ordinance imposes no tax.

NEWS FROM SOUTH
S. F. BOYS IN FRANCE

CHAS. WOODMAN RECEIVES LETTER FROM EUGENE LIPPI; IS WITH BONALANZA.

Charlie Woodman is in receipt of a letter from Eugene Lippi of South San Francisco. Lippi and his friend Leo Bonalanza are in France, and asked to be remembered to all the folks in South San Francisco. The boys' addresses are published for the benefit of those who may wish to write to them. The letter follows:

March 6, 1918.

Somewhere in France.

Dear Charles: I thought I'd write you a few lines to let you know that Bonalanza and I are still alive.

Bonalanza and I have been over here for a few months now and are having a pretty fair time.

Charles, I remember at home they all call France "Sunny France." Well, since we've been here we've seen very few sunny days. Myself I think South City's weather has them all beat.

The first few months we were over here all we had was snow and rain and we get sun once a month whether we need it or not.

A few days ago Bonalanza was on guard and nearly froze to death, while I was in the kitchen flipping hot cakes for the troops.

Charles, when we first hit here it was pretty hard for us to get along with the young women. All we could hear around us was "Wee, wee, American Soldat, wee, wee."

In one of the cities we landed in they all thought we were cowboys, but finally found out we were American soldiers.

After being here for a few weeks Bonalanza and I thought we'd buy a book to learn how to speak French, but OH MY, that French language.

Will close. It's 9:15 and the lights go out at 9:30 and I haven't got my bunk made yet, so I guess I'll close with best regards to South City from Bonalanza and I.

EUGENE J. LIPPI.

Our addresses are:
 Leo E. Bonalanza, 32d Aero Squadron, A. E. F., in France.
 Cook Eugene Joseph Lippi, 32d Aero Squadron, A. E. F., in France.

Bargains or Values
WHICH?

The reason why we prefer to offer VALUES instead of bargains is because nine so-called bargains out of every ten is a bargain only to the seller.

We do, however, offer you some really wonderful VALUES in DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS Values that are better than any bargain, and that will continue to give satisfaction when bargains in the same lines are worn out and forgotten.

Be a value-seeker and get SATISFACTION. That's what we guarantee you.

He Has Made Good

Pre-eminent among the candidates for Trustee stands a man of unquestioned integrity, sincerity of purpose and unwavering adherence to doing the right thing as his reason and conscience dictates in the sometimes difficult duties of the office which he has filled faithfully and well.

The voters of this city should stand squarely behind him, not alone in appreciation of his ability as shown by his past record, but as indicative of their desire for a continuance of progressive representation in the City Council.

We offer no objections to the other aspirants for the municipal offices, but advocate the re-election of Trustee F. A. Cunningham. "He has made good."

Swifts Serve Colors

Whatever the packing house probe may be from a business standpoint, no charge of disloyalty to the Swift family can well stand before the following record of activities of the family of Louis F. Swift in war service:

LOUIS F. SWIFT JR.—Entered first officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill. Was commissioned to a second lieutenantcy and assigned to the 332nd Machine Gun Battalion at Camp Grant, Ill. By meritorious service he has been appointed a first lieutenant.

WILLIAM E. SWIFT—Has applied for service in the aviation section of our fighting forces. Is 20 years old.

ALDEN B. SWIFT—Now in France, having charge of a distribution station for Red Cross supplies.

MRS. SWIFT FERNALD—Doing canteen work in first line trenches in France. Also actively engaged in welfare work, affording pleasant entertainment for sick and wounded soldiers and the needy children of France.

Be Yourself

Oversensitiveness is the cause of many failures.

If you are constantly thinking of how people may look upon your efforts you will make little advancement.

The men who have succeeded are those who forged ahead, unmindful of what people thought or said about them.

Be independent. Lay your plans carefully and make every move advance you toward the goal set. If the goal be a worthy one, and you reach it, the scoffers will later come to you for assistance—or they may envy you for what you have accomplished.

The man with a definite purpose is going to meet with rebuffs, he is going to be commented upon in an uncomplimentary manner.

Be stronger than the taunts of such people. It is only the weak who resort to anything of this sort. The man of achievement honors the one who is struggling for a foothold, for he has gone through the same efforts himself.

Choose your own life's roads.

Don't let others run your business for you, and don't let derision put you in the ranks of the "might-have-beens."

It would seem there is nothing too improbable to happen. A Kentuckian has died from too much whisky.

That war garden will be just as big and as good as your patriotism will let it be.

Parisians are now closely scanning all German prisoners for fear Hindenburg may attempt to reach Paris via that route.

It will be many years before the hen tribe will cease boasting of the great age attained by their ancestors who flourished during the world war.

Of course Holland put up a stiff protest against our seizure of those ships, but Holland was speaking for Germany's benefit then. And now that the affair is settled and we have the ships, Holland will get her supplies, provided she agrees to keep her back door closed and locked.

Uncle John D. Rockefeller has just finished paying his income tax, amounting to $32,400,000. This leaves him only $22,000,000 on which to support his family this year. With the help of all the Hoover regulations, this should be made to answer, if he gives careful attention to the garden.

The men of this country have decided that they will not permit the women to do all the conserving of clothing, so they will give up the belts of their coats. When is a sacrifice not a sacrifice?

Now that the daylight saving bill has become law, perhaps some of our young bloods can worry through and be ready for bed by 2 g. m.

The Kaiser is said to be a diligent student of the career of Napoleon. There are a few incidents toward the close of that career that are not calculated to give William any great amount of satisfaction if he would emulate the little Corsican.

We forget the exact date of Villa's last death, but anyway it must be nearly due again.

COUNTY FOOD BOARD FORMED TO ENFORCE NEW REGULATIONS

The organization of what is to be known as the San Mateo County Food Conservation Board was effected at a meeting held in Redwood City Wednesday.

A meeting of the merchants and hotelkeepers of South San Francisco was held by the Board on Friday, April 5, at 1 p. m., at which time Douglas Watson, County Food Administrator, made an address on the new food regulations, particularly the stringent regulations regarding the use of wheat and wheat products.

The meeting was attended by local merchants engaged in the sale of sugar and wheat products, and by hotelkeepers who use them in quantities.

Following the meeting plans were laid for the perfection of the local organization to conserve these products and to limit the supply which would be furnished to meet the new regulations of the United States Food Administration.

Watson has had voluntary declaration blanks printed which he is sending out to consumers to fill out, showing the amount of wheat flour they have in their possession. The blanks are printed in the following form:

Voluntary Declaration

United States Food Administration

San Mateo County Unit

April.....1918.

Douglas S. Watson,
Food Administrator for San Mateo County,
Redwood City, California.

I hereby declare that I have in my possession.....pounds of wheat flour, and that my allotment based upon six pounds of wheat flour per person per month will amount to.....pounds, there being.....persons in my household. The excess above my allotment, amounting to.....pounds, I hold at the disposal of the GOVERNMENT.

Signed.....

Street and Number.....

City.....

This declaration made during the month of April, 1918, will free the possessor of an excess of wheat flour from an accusation of FOOD HOARDING! The penalty for HOARDING under the Food Act of August, 1917, is FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS fine, or two years in jail. STOP EATING BREAD! IF YOU EAT BREAD WE WILL LOSE THE WAR!

LOCAL WRITER PENS CLEVER WAR POEMS

The Enterprise is in receipt of a group of song poems from the pen of Mrs. James E. Douglas, a South San Francisco writer. The two poems herewith published have been selected at random, and others will appear in subsequent issues.

MY HEART'S SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.

By Mrs. James E. Douglas.

(Dedicated to my son, Joseph B. Hulse, now with the 37th Aero Squadron, somewhere in France).

Just a lad in well-worn khaki,
With a bright and earnest glance,
Bound to do his bit for Freedom
On the battlefields of France.
Oh, my heart's there in the trenches
Where the German death-fires dance,
Midst the deadly gas and shrapnel,
With the lad I love, in France.

(Refrain)

In the land of tears and sadness,
Once the fair land of Romance,
With a lad in well-worn khaki—
My heart's somewhere in France.

In my dreams his arms enfold me
As they did that last sad day;
Oh, so tenderly they hold me,
Strong young arms, so far away!
Not for me the lights and laughter,
Not for me the song and dance,
While the one I love is facing
Pain and death in far-off France.

Now that Lenine and Trotsky have succeeded in demobilizing and demoralizing the Russian armies, they are wildly calling upon the Russian people to "defend the revolution." Seems to us we recall reports of a people who were forced to "make bricks without straw."

This paper wishes it understood that it welcomes spring poetry, and can not secure too much of it. We intend to start in time to lay in our winter fuel.

If all American pacifists were as practical in their pacifism as Henry Ford, we would soon have peace, but it would be peace through victory.

For many years now we have laid great stress on the rights and privileges of the American citizen, forgetting or ignoring the fact that with every right or privilege there is also a duty. The time has come when we must put our full attention to these duties, and we should be as conscientious in their discharge as we have been insistent in demanding our rights and privileges.

Agriculture the Most Important Business In the World

By ARCHER WALL DOUGLAS, Economist

IT required a worldwide apprehension of a shortage in food to bring to the many the realization that agriculture is essentially the most important and fundamental business in the world. So its progress is made easier by this awakening of public interest.

ITS POSSIBILITIES ARE ONLY IN THEIR INCEPTION, AND THE FUTURE WILL BRING TO US THE STORY OF A NEW AND CHANGED FARM LIFE.

Most of all will it reveal to the many not only the material importance of a calling which is the foundation of all national welfare, but point the way to a possible solution of the problem of all civilization, that of the great congested center, for, whatever may be our portion in the future, one thing seems very sure—that we shall avoid the decay and degeneracy of the civilizations of the past only by preserving unspotted from the world those ELEMENTAL PIONEER TRAITS WHICH MADE THIS NATION GREAT AND KEEP IT SO.

It requires the courage and conscience which the possession of these traits implies to set aside utterly the traditional view of the ways and customs which the past has bequeathed us and to realize that the destructive social habits of indulgence in every form are likewise serious economic evils.

HOMEMADE VINEGARS.

HERB VINEGAR.—Herb vinegar is very easily made and especially by those who have herbs growing fresh in their own gardens. Mint, thyme, marjoram, basil, tarragon, etc., are all suitable, or a mixture of herbs may be used. Choose young leaves, pick them from the stalks and wash and dry them if necessary. Then put them into wide mouthed bottles, filling these three parts full and fill up with good vinegar. Cork the bottles closely and leave them for three weeks. By this time the vinegar ought to be sufficiently flavored and may be strained off into bottles and corked again. The vinegar will become impregnated with the full flavor of the herbs and will be found useful in winter for flavoring salads, sauces, fish dishes, etc.

Spiced Vinegar.—This is especially good to flavor cauliflower, cabbage, cucumber and other vegetable salads. For each gallon of good vinegar slice six cloves of garlic, six onions, two horseradish roots, four ounces of bruised ginger roots, four ounces of mustard seeds, two ounces each of black pepper and unground allspice. Put in a stone crock and simmer on back of stove for ten hours, then strain and bottle for use. To make sweet spiced vinegar boil two and one-half cupsful of brown sugar with three pints of cider vinegar, adding four cloves, two inches of cinnamon stick, one blade of mace, one bay leaf, one sliced lemon and one ounce of bruised ginger root, allow to cook for fifteen minutes and when cold strain, bottle and seal. This is good with fruit salad or for spicing prunes.

Nasturtium Vinegar.—Nasturtium vinegar is very useful for flavoring sauces, gravies and for use in salads or special salad dressing. The fully grown flowers should be gathered on a dry day, put into a wide glass bottle, shaken down until they lie close and covered with cold vinegar. A very small shallot, finely chopped, and a fragment of chopped garlic may be added if desired. The bottle must be quite full of vinegar. At the end of two months it may be opened for use, then vinegar being strained and seasoned with salt and red pepper.

Watermelon Vinegar.—Watermelon vinegar was a favorite in olden times. Take the inside of ripe melons—the riper the better—crush in a stone jar, strain the juice into clean bottles, jars or pitchers; cover and set away to sour. This is an excellent vinegar.

Pretty Frocks for Afternoon Wear

While these wearers of the pretty afternoon frocks compare observations on rose culture, we have opportunity to take note on two approved models of dresses made in the new styles. The designer of the gown at the right chose a wool fabric and found the allowance of four and a half yards which patriotism will concede to one dress, all that he needed. The other frock is of striped satin and plain georgette crepe, which need not be conserved, but it uses only just enough material to carry out a design that makes modest demands in fabrics.

The wool frock is a one-piece model with narrow, plain skirt joined to a plain bodice, by a wide, straight belt of the material. The sleeves are close-fitting, making place for a row of small cloth-covered buttons, set close together, which appear to have become the hallmark of class on blouses and gowns. A panel of cloth at each side is turned up and ornamented with a large embroidered motif in two colors, one of them matching that in the frock. The neck is finished with a repetition of this motif in smaller size.

A double tunic distinguishes the novel frock at the left of the picture. It has a narrow underskirt of crepe with a long tunic of crepe finished at the bottom with a wide band of striped satin. The full sleeves are of crepe with bands of the striped silk at the wrists. The easily draped bodice is cut with a square neck-opening at the front and is made entirely of silk, joined to a pointed tunic of silk that is shorter at the back than at the sides and front. It does not extend across the front of the frock and its shape and length are style features of the season that characterize coats in coat suits as well as tunics. Frocks of this kind usually fasten under the arm and on the shoulder. A lace-trimmed organdie collar and cuff set is so good a finish for this frock that it may be considered a necessity.

YOUNG THESPIANS PREPARED FOR PLAY

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS EXPECT LARGE AUDIENCE AT "FANCHON, THE CRICKET."

Fanchon, the Cricket," a five-act comedy, will be presented by the student body of the High School at the High School Auditorium on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Faithful rehearsals have made the carefully selected cast letter-perfect in their parts, and an excellent presentation of the rather difficult play is promised by the youthful thespians. The scene is laid in a countryside village of France in the eighteenth century, and the plot hinges on the superstitions and witchcraft of that period. The play has the usual happy ending, with truth and justice triumphant. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used to complete payment on the drop curtain and valance which were installed on the stage of the auditorium just preceding the play of last December.

The student body anticipate and rightly expect hearty public support to the production, inasmuch as the funds will be applied directly to a permanent improvement of a public building.

Following the presentation of the play there will be a dance.

Feed cards for horses are now required in Copenhagen.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. James Singleton of San Francisco spent last Sunday with friends here.

VICTOR MOORE.

Victor Moore was born in Hammondsport, N. J., on the 24th of February, 1876. He went to school there, where he says of himself that if a Friday morning passed without his speaking a piece, something seemed radically wrong and the usual routine jarred.

"I took part in every amateur theatrical performance that was given in the little town," continued Mr. Moore in speaking of his early life, "and I saw every play that came to the little town and followed the same practice after we moved to Boston. I remember I saw James A. Hearn in 'Shore Acres' five times in one week at the old Boston Theatre.

"In Boston, too, my supernumerary days began—my first appearance on the stage being in 'Babes in the Woods' as a spearman. The manager had advertised for tall men. I was fifteen years old, just as short as I am now and almost as chubby, but I wanted to get on that stage as a spearman—and I did. While waiting for the doorkeeper to admit the crowd of applicants, I, being so short, thought he might not see me in the crowd and stood on a convenient barrel—risking my neck thereby but gaining the coveted job."

Mr. Moore went on with an interesting recital of his early experiences which included many short engagements with traveling companies, some of which lasted for a night, some for a week—some longer. He says that when he finally attained the dignity of a speaking part (all of two lines) his joy was unbounded.

"From this precarious existence I graduated into vaudeville," went on the famous comedian, "and thence to a small part in George M. Cohan's 'Forty-five Minutes from Broadway.'"

Other productions in which Victor Moore has appeared are: "Rose-mary," with John Drew, "Jack and the Beanstalk," "A Girl from Paris" and "The Talk of New York." When he was first engaged by the Lasky Company to appear on the Paramount Program in photoplays, there was much discussion as to the subject for his first picture, but the well-known satirical farce, "Snobs," was finally decided upon as most suitable to his especial ability.

This was soon followed by "Chimmie Fadden" and "Chimmie Fadden Out West," two very popular pictures in which Mr. Moore created a charmingly jovial hero. Mr. Moore was especially successful in delineating this type of character and has coaxed many a laugh from motion picture audiences weary of the slap-stick style of comedy.

But Mr. Moore's ability as a comedian was too great to be denied an individual starring vehicle of his own, so a few months later he formed the Klever Komedies' Company, which he controls and of which he is the sole star.

BOOKS FOR OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Hundreds of thousands of books are needed for the War Service Libraries maintained by the American Library Association at cantonments, training camps, posts, forts, naval stations, on vessels and overseas. Our men want them for their leisure hours—for recreation and for study. Experience has proved that they are eager to read, and books must be provided.

What Remains to Be Done.
Half a million books are still required to meet the actual needs of men in the thirty-four large camps.

Another half million are needed immediately for the military forts, posts and small camps; for the naval stations and vessels; for the marine corps training stations and barracks.

And for the men on transports and overseas there is need for an almost unlimited supply.

For every man in service there ought to be a book in service. That means at least a million more books at once. And books wear out in use. They must be replaced frequently.

Hundreds of thousands will be purchased; but every dollar available for purchase is needed for the sort of books that cannot be expected as gifts.

Therefore:
Hundreds of thousands must be obtained as gifts.

What You Can Do.

You can pass on to the khaki the books you enjoyed, but will not read again. You can give them some of the books you like best—books you would like to keep. They will like them, too.

You can send novels, tales of adventure, detective stories and standard fiction; up-to-date books on civil, mechanical and electrical engineering, the trades, business, the professions and agriculture; recent text-books on military subjects, mathematics, the sciences, and foreign languages; books of travel, history, biology, poetry and the present war; dictionaries and new encyclopedias; interesting books in foreign languages.

"I told Henrietta that I was proud to see her vote just like a man," said Mr. Meekton.

"Did that please her?"

"No. The choice of phrase was unfortunate. She said that if she couldn't vote better than a man there would have been no need of her troubling about the ballot in the first place."

SENATE ADOPTS AMENDMENT REQUIRING DRAFT REGISTRY

Washington, March 30.—The resolution amending the selective draft act by requiring the registration of youths reaching 21 years since June 5, 1917, and estimated to add 700,000 more men to the roll of eligibles, was adopted late yesterday by the Senate. It now goes to the House.

Lillian Russell says: "Do not scratch your back with your Knitting-needle"; page-wide head in a Sunday supplement. Certainly not; think of picking up all those stitches again! As society's back is mostly in evidence, ask who sits next, only be polite about it and say "please" and "thank you." Mightn't knitting-needles be good for stitches, and itches in the back? Perhaps Lillian's suggestion is for the conservation of steel—we may need the filings in munition factories.

Aimee—When Harold proposed to you did he get down on his knees?

Hazel—I should say not.

Aimee—Why didn't he?

Hazel—Well—er—probably because they were occupied at the time.

Swift & Company's 1918 Year Book

It shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09
Total received	93.06
This leaves for expenses and profit	8.61
Of which the profit per steer was	1.29

There are many other interesting and instructive facts and figures in the Year Book.
